TRAVEL WITH CONFIDENCE- UPDATE*160720

Dear Trade Partner,

Emirates have now made it easier for our trade partners and customers to find the relevant Government Health Requirements online.

We understand the importance of understanding these requirements, and also staying updated due to changing nature with different authorities updating processes. The information is now available in one easy place with all the latest requirements for each country. Please click here to find the information, itemised by region and country.

Two updates have also been made for the Dubai arrival process, applicable to both Dubai residents and tourists.

1. For Tourists travelling to Dubai (Except from India ) click here.
2. For Dubai residents please click here.

A summary of the updates are:

Emirates have clarified the countries requiring a PCR test certificate, prior to travel to Dubai, also include countries of origin (if a passenger is transiting through another point)

Also added is a list of approved labs in the majority of these countries, some are still to be confirmed, which you can find in the attached list.

Customers must carry a negative PCR test certificate if:

Their point of origin is one of the countries a or airport listed below.

They have travelled from the points listed below to another destination, and took a connecting Emirates flight to Dubai.

Without a test certificate, the customer will not be accepted on the Emirates flight. The customer's certificate must be issued by a local government approved laboratory. If the UAE government has specified a designated laboratory in the customer's country of origin, then they must obtain their certificate from that lab. Certificates must be issued no more than 96 hours before departure. This applies to the following points of origin:

- Afghanistan
- Bangladesh
- Egypt
- India
- Iran
- Nigeria
- Pakistan
- Philippines
- Russian Federation
- Sudan

- Tanzania
- USA - Dallas Fort Worth (DFW), Houston (IAH), Los Angeles (LAX), San Francisco (SFO), Fort Lauderdale (FLL) and Orlando (MCO), including passengers originating from California, Florida and Texas connecting to an Emirates flight from any of our airports worldwide to Dubai
